

VOORHEES TALKING ON THE TARIFF.

WHAT HE SAID IN HIS OPENING SPEECH.

He Warmly Defends the Proposed Income Tax—Claims that the Bill in Its Present Shape Will Save Taxpayers $76,670,000—General Washington News.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Senator Voorhees opened the tariff debate in the senate yesterday with the greatest speech of his life. He had been getting ready for the occasion for the last two weeks, and surprised his friends by his masterly presentation of the democratic side of the subject. The senator claimed the country was dominated by the monopolists and wealthy classes and that the passage of the Wilson bill would put an end to this evil. Of the McKinley bill he said:

"The enactment of the McKinley law in 1890 was a gigantic crime not only against every workingman and workingwoman in the United States, but also against every individual man-into fierce resentment and contention. We hear on all hands the dictatorial voice of individual and corporation wealth demanding that it shall not be disturbed by the slightest touch of the tax gatherer, whatever may be the demands of the government or the oppression of toiling masses."

Referring to the wool schedule he said:

"If I believed wool on the free list would hurt the farmer I would not vote for the impending bill. It is a matter of actual demonstration, however, which has been often made, that free wool, accompanied by such reduced rates as can then be placed on manufactures of wool, and which are placed on them in this bill, is one of the greatest blessings that can befall the farmer. If the farmer should get an increased price for his wool by reason of a tariff for its protection, he will pay it all out, and much more, to the manufacturer as a duty on woolen goods when he next buys a woolen shirt, an overcoat or a pair of trousers."

Mr. Voorhees concluded as follows: "When the day shall dawn in which the farmer, the mechanic and the wageworker shall alike have the right and the privilege to go into the open, liberated markets of the land and buy where their hard-earned money will buy most for their wants, with none to molest, to assess, to levy, to take toll, or to tax, then indeed will the millennium of labor have come and all the sons and daughters of toil shall rise up and call their government blessed."

"Sir, this is the birthday of Thomas Jefferson. One hundred and fifty-one years ago to-day he came into the world the greatest emancipator of thought, philosopher of liberty and teacher of the natural rights of man ever known in human history. The blows he struck for freedom, justice and equality in government are yet resounding throughout the earth, and they will never cease to be heard until the last shackles of privilege tyranny is broken. Ten days before his soul took flight from his mountain home he wrote his parting words to his own countrymen and to all the races of mankind. With this great dying message before us, and in its spirit, we take new courage and go on with our work."

"All eyes are open or opening," he said, "to the rights of man. The general spread of the light of science has already laid open to every view the palpable truth that the mass of mankind has not been born with saddles on their backs, nor a favored few booted and spurred, ready to ride them legitimately by the grace of God."

"Hail, mighty message, and hail its speedy and certain fulfillment. All hail the counsels of Thomas Jefferson in this hour of caste based on wealth, of privilege granted by law and of monopoly fastened on the slavery of labor."

The bill of Senator Hansbrough for the destruction of the Russian thistle was temporarily laid over to make way for the tariff discussion.

After Senator Voorhees had concluded his speech Senator Allison, who had intended to follow Senator Voorhees, yielded for an executive session, and at 5:25 p. m. the senate adjourned until to-day at 12 o'clock.

The senate committee on finance has made public the treasury estimates of the revenue which will be derived from the senate tariff bill, which shows the customs returns under the bill will amount to $163,361,018. The internal revenue part of the bill will yield an increase over the present law of $63,000,000, of which the income tax will furnish $30,000,000, the increase of the spirit tax $30,000,000, and that on playing cards $3,000,000.

Cullom and the Behring Sea Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—While the Behring sea bill was up in the senate yesterday Senator Cullom of Illinois raised the question if it was not unusual to authorize foreign powers to arrest American citizens; and Senator Morgan pointed out that a similar arrangement had been entered into between Great Britain and the United States to suppress the slave trade. It is announced that an amicable agreement has been reached between the two powers.

Deficit in Treasury Accounts.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The regular monthly treasury statement for March shows that as compared with March of last year there was a falling off in the receipts from customs of over $8,300,000, from internal revenue of $122,500, and from miscellaneous sources of $844,622. In the expenditures there was a decrease of $540,915 on Indian account and $460,714 on account of pensions. There was a falling off in the interest account of $432,794.

No O'Neill-Joy Decision.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The struggle over the O'Neill-Joy contested election case was resumed yesterday in the house. Mr. Reed said that on Friday the speaker had overlooked flagrant violations of the rule governing votes under the rollcall. The democrats lacked twenty of a quorum.

Just before the house adjourned Mr. Patterson gave notice that to-day he would ask the house to sit in continuous session until the case was decided.

Woman's Ticket Defeated.

ABLENE, Kan., April 3.—At Enterprise, in this county, the women had an entire city ticket, with Mrs. C. Kohler for mayor. They conducted an active campaign, and polled nearly all the women votes. Their ticket was, however, defeated by 100 votes.

COKE MINERS RIOT
OVER CUT WAGES.

OUTBREAK OCCURS IN PENNSYLVANIA WORKINGS.

Very Serious Trouble Is Threatened—Every Plant in the Region May Be Closed—Dynamite Used—Deputies Being Sworn In At All Endangered Points.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 3.—The threatened strike of the Connellsville coke workers occurred yesterday and was immediately followed by wild scenes of rioting and disorder. The reports received at the headquarters of the United States Mine Workers' union in Uniontown say that over 5,000 men are out. A midnight special from Uniontown says the officials of the miners' union have received advice to warrant them in the statement that from 15,000 to 17,000 men will be out to-day. This means a total suspension of work in the region. Acting upon the advice of his attorneys Sheriff Wilhelm has sworn in 500 deputies and will distribute them through the region. A number of arrests have been made. The rioters were immediately bailed out.

All night mass-meetings were held all over the region and the unprotected property of the operators was in great danger of being wrecked and burned. Telegrams have been sent to the governor from prominent citizens to call out the National guard, but until a serious outbreak occurs the executive will not act. He says the civil authorities can handle the rioters if they assert their authority.

At the Oliver Coke and Furnace company's plant the strikers have been raiding and preventing those from working who so desire. The English-speaking workmen want to work, but the Slavs and Hungarians will not permit them. At this plant there are 1,500 tons of coke burning up. When the management of the plant called on Sheriff Wilhelm to protect the men who want to work they were told that deputies would be furnished if the company would put up the money to insure their payment. No arrangement has yet been made. The men had promised to draw the coke at this plant before striking.

At Wheeler and Morrill the men destroyed a portion of the plants by exploding dynamite, and were raiding all the men who wanted to work. At the Leisenring, Nos. 1, 2, and 3, the largest Frick works there has been much trouble. All the men are out. About 100 of the English-speaking element began work but were driven away by a mob of foreigners numbering several hundred. Some of the workmen were badly beaten with clubs and stones. At Leith and Brownfield part of the men are working on the yard and in the mines. The strikers say they will visit these plants in a body to bring out the men. At Lemont, Nos. 1 and 2, where about 600 men are employed, all are out. A large body of strikers from Wheeler and Morrill went to the Anchor and Humphrey plants yesterday afternoon and drove the men off. They then went to the Hill farm mines and attacked the men there. A colored worker was struck on the head with a stone and his skull fractured. It is feared this injury may prove fatal. The strikers were armed with guns, clubs and stones. Superintendent Lang has sworn out warrants for the arrest of the rioters. Most of them were foreigners and the strike seems to be led principally by them.

The men at W. J. Rainey's plants are working, but are expected to come out to-day. The coke in the ovens is being taken out to keep it from being destroyed. At the Stewart Iron company's plant the men are doing the same thing. In the lower end of the region the Standard works of the Frick company, the famous Morewood plant, where the big riot occurred in 1891; the Alice, Trotter, Nellie and Stonerville, all the plants of the Sewickley branch, all the works of the Cambria Iron company, the Atlas, and many smaller plants are idle. The independent plants at Pennsylvania and Moyer are running.

The leaders are confident and say that the strike is a success and that not a man will be working Saturday night unless the operators capitulate. The operators are determined and say they will demand protection that they may operate their works. The situation is undoubtedly critical and the operators are apprehensive of serious trouble. The rioting is done by the Slavs, Hungarians and other foreigners. The English speaking miners can not control them.

The strike is for increased wages and the recognition of the new union. It is part of and the beginning of the national coal miners' strike to be discussed at the Columbus convention.

The Elections in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 3.—The elections throughout Ohio yesterday were for municipal officers only and the republicans claim to have won victories all over the state. The claim is not conceded by the democrats.

Women Elected to the School Board.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 3.—Dr. F. C. Vannervort, August Boeker, and Mrs. Imogene Akers were elected members of the school board yesterday without any opposition. Almost as many women as men voted.

REPEATS HIS DENIAL OF NAUGHTY TALES.

BRECKINRIDGE GOES ON WITH HIS STORY.

Declares He Never Promised to Wed Miss Pollard—Refused In Major Moore's Office to Say He Had Ruined Her Life—Many Sensational Details.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Col. Breckinridge took the stand yesterday to complete his tale. He repeated much that he had already said and related many details of his journeyings during his nine years' intercourse with the plaintiff, in which time he had lost one wife and married another. Before he left the stand last Friday he declared, and repeated the declaration, that he had never promised to marry Miss Pollard. This in the face of the substantiated testimony of the plaintiff.

The carriage ride of August, 1892, when Miss Pollard had said Col. Breckinridge made the first formal proposal of marriage to her, was the first subject to which Col. Breckinridge addressed himself. He denied, that any such ride had taken place or that he had made any proposal or had talked over family matters. Then continuing, he said:

"I never asked the plaintiff to give up any child; I never knew plaintiff had any living child; I never at any time spoke of marriage to the plaintiff before the death of my late wife."

Denying the conversation which Miss Pollard said took place at the Hoffman House that a company had been formed by Whitney and Fairchild which he was to represent, he said that he had not seen the plaintiff on April 30; that he had not been absent for a moment from the side of his wife that day, as he had not been married forty-eight hours. He never had any business arrangements with the gentlemen mentioned, never contemplated a visit to Europe, never spoke of intending marriage.

Then Mr. Butterworth called his attention again to the interview in the office of Major Moore.

"My recollection is that it was a much shorter visit than Major Moore has said," he continued. "It was rapid and excited; the young woman did most of the talking."

This statement Mr. Breckinridge desired to make to correct an impression Major Moore had given that the conversation had lasted a much longer time. He went over the conversation heretofore given in this interview and which included the statement to plaintiff that "I will marry you the last day of the month if God don't interpose." There was no attempt, he said, to keep the matter of the interview secret from the newspapers.

Continuing the description of the second visit to Major Moore, he said: "We agreed to say that she was going to New York to have a child; that I was the author of it. We agreed on all but one point. She insisted, crying several times, that I should tell Major Moore I was the only man who had ever been intimate with her. I declined to do that. I said I had put myself in the power of her and Major Moore already, and I would refuse to say to any man that I had ruined her. Then she said she would not go. As she turned the jacket back I saw the gleam of a pistol in her bosom. I said: 'You are getting close to me,' and she said: 'I will use it on myself if I do on anybody.'"

Then describing the scene at the office of the chief of police, where they sat on the sofa, he said: "She seemed to be dissatisfied with the form in which I made the statement. She took out the pistol and looked at it. I said: 'You had better let Major Moore take that and make me a Christmas present of it.' Then I said that nobody could say that I had ruined her, because the first night I saw her I took liberties with her and the second night I slept with her. I made this statement about not ruining her with considerable force, even temper."

He said: "I considered the problem settled so far as Washington was concerned, so far as Mrs. Blackburn was concerned, so far as our sexual relations were concerned. The only thing left open was regarding the child. I said to her that if it was my child, as I only partially believed it was, I wanted to educate it, to take care of it, to give it every chance possible for a child born out of wedlock and in the meantime she was to have every care and tenderness. We parted without anger and on this understanding."

He finished his testimony without giving evidence of much importance except to deny that he had any sexual relations with the plaintiff whatever after July 29, the day he was secretly married to his present wife. He never had sexual intercourse with the plaintiff after he returned to Washington after March 31 at any time or any place.

Judge Wilson, for the defense, then began the cross-examination of the witness.

In relating his connection with educational institutions, Col. Breckinridge said that he had been a lecturer for several years and had been nominally a trustee of Sayre institute, the female seminary attended by the plaintiff.

In some questions concerning the well-known character of the house kept by Sarah Goss, where the first private meeting between himself and Miss Pollard took place, Col. Breckinridge was asked: "Then I understand that before you met the plaintiff you had for years known Sarah Goss; known the character of the house; known the location of the house, and had been there before you went there with the plaintiff?" "Each of these statements is true," replied the witness.

Later, in speaking of the visits to Sarah Goss, he said, "Every arrangement, as I remember it, for us to meet was accidentally made."

Describing the interview on the train the colonel said: "I suggested to her that if she staid over in Lexington wouldn't she meet me, and asked if there was any place she could go. She said she could go to Sarah Goss' house, and with some surprise I asked: 'What do you know about Sarah Goss?' She said that Mr. Rhodes had once tried to get her to go there with him, and she had gone as far as the gate, but refused to go in."

The colonel denied the statement of Miss Pollard that he had addressed letters to her under the name of Louise Wilson. "Since I have no recollection of a woman named Louise Wilson I can not remember having sent any letter to her," he said. "Of course I have a large correspondence. I have a sister-in-law named Louise, the wife of Gen. Breckinridge, but since she is called Lou in the family I don't think I could have written in that way."

He was asked whether he did not take to Louise Lowell, a stenographer in the capitol building, in the spring of 1886 a package of a dozen envelopes, somewhat yellowed by age and of different dates, and have her address them to Miss Madeline Pollard, No. 7 Upper street, Lexington, Ky.

Col. Breckinridge was strenuous in his denial. "I never under any circumstances had any such envelopes addressed and I do not care who the woman is who says so," he asserted positively.

The court here adjourned.

UNKNOWN IS CHIEF.

Commonwealth Army Showing Evidence of Strict Discipline.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 3.—Campfires were twinkling in every direction on College hill even before dawn yesterday. The army of the commonwealth rose early from its quarters and went out to the camp to get ready for the longest march yet made, to Sewickley. The men prepared a hasty breakfast. Bustle and discipline were evident, the former owing to the increase in the size of the army and the latter due to "Unknown" Smith's iron rule. At headquarters preparations were made to feed 400 men, but that number did not put in an appearance. The result of what little drill the "unknown" marshal imparts is becoming apparent in the bearing of the army while on the march. The police made no arrests and report the behavior of the men to have been excellent, although an attempted burglary was reported.

Too many men are being fed, Coxey thinks, compared with the number who march. He and the unknown held a conference in headquarters tent at 9 o'clock and a secret service was decided on. A corps of amateur detectives will be organized before Sewickley is reached so that the unknown leader will practically have all the men under his thumb before the commonwealth reaches Allegheny.

Twenty-seven new recruits were mustered last evening and it is said there are as many more for to-day. There are now nearly 375 commonwealthers. Coxey has heard from Gen. Frye, who says that he expects to join the army with a body of men before long.

The army will march at 9:30 o'clock to-day to Camp Kirkland, exposition grounds, Allegheny. Great preparations are being made for the reception of the commonwealthers.

THE EMS SAFE IN HARBOR.

North German Line Steamer Towed in to Port at Fayal, Azore Islands.

NEW YORK, April 3.—A dispatch from Fayal, in the Azore Islands, announces that the North German Lloyd steamer Ems, from Bremen March 17 and Southampton March 18, for New York, now several days overdue at the latter port, was towed in there by the British oil-tank steamer Wild Flower, from Wilmington, Del., on March 19, for Blaye, France. The Ems has her propeller frame broken and it will be necessary to send a ship to Fayal with a new rudder frame to take the place of the broken one. This propeller frame is a steel frame that fits in between the rubber and the hull of the vessel and supports the propeller on an axis which runs from one upright to the other.

TO SUCCEED COLQUITT.

Editor Walsh of the Augusta Chronicle Appointed United States Senator.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 3.—Gov. Northen yesterday appointed Patrick Walsh, editor of the Augusta Chronicle, as United States senator to succeed the late Senator Colquitt.

No Issues at Stake in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 3.—In the city election here yesterday a light vote was polled. The republicans, from returns so far received, seem to have carried the city by from 500 to 1,200.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, April 3.—The democrats elected their entire city ticket yesterday by 500 to 700 majority.

Dr. Breckinridge Dead.

PARIS, April 3.—Prof. Brown-Sequard, the eminent physician and physiologist, the supposed inventor of the elixir of life, died here to-day.

FIGHTING AT POLLS WAS NOT GENERAL.

MILWAUKEE HAD A QUIET ELECTION DAY.

Fears of Conflict Between A. P. A's, and Catholics Proved to Be Unfounded—Republicans Show the Advantage of Thorough Organization Fricke Has Done Good Work.

MILWAUKEE, April 3.—Republicans are reaping the fruit of perfect organization. A heavy vote is being polled and success for Koch's ticket is confidently expected. Dr. Fricke, secretary of the county committee has done splendid work in organizing his forces. He has fought a hard fight and has had many obstacles to overcome but his skill was thoroughly proven when the votes began to come out this morning. In most of the wards the day has passed off quietly. There were encounters between A. P. A's and Catholics at one or two polling places but nothing serious.

All Quiet at Charleston.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 3.—Things are quiet here. There are less people on the streets than on any day since the inception of the trouble. The people are, however, standing around the bulletin board and waiting for news from the seat of war. It begins to look now as if the worst is over and that there will be no further bloodshed. More citizen volunteer troops came in here last night, and they are now quartered at the state prison waiting the orders of the governor.

Another Los Angeles Brigade.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 3.—One hundred and sixty-seven men, twenty-seven of them being heads of families, started out on the march to Washington, under the command of Gen. Vinette. The men declared that they would march as far as San Bernardino, where they would take the Santa Fe to the Missouri river. It is the plan to centralize at Kansas City and mobilize an army of 1,000 men at the Missouri river. The men were well behaved and orderly.

Chassell's Bill Passes in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 3.—The senate yesterday passed the house bill by Chassell to allow the manufacture and sale at wholesale of intoxicating liquors in this state. This is the bill that was passed to engrossment in the house last Saturday and which comes up in the house on third reading to-day. The vote by which it passed the senate was 27 to 17.

Albert Looker Acquitted.

HAMMOND, Ind., April 3.—Albert Looker, who shot and instantly killed James Conroy and William Cleary, game wardens on the Tolleston Hunting and Fishing club's grounds, in John Hargin's saloon at Tolleston March 21, was acquitted by Judge Carl Morlock of the city court. The acquittal meets with popular approval.

Troops at Darlington.

DARLINGTON, S. C., April 3.—A military press censorship is in force here. According to the proclamation promulgated by Gov. Tillman this and the adjoining county of Florence are in a state of insurrection. The inquest over the dead has been postponed until to-morrow.

Both Parties Claim Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 3.—The municipal campaign closed last night. The republicans claim the city by from 3,000 to 5,000, while the democrats claim it by 2,000. The members of the American Protective association claim they have not taken any part in the campaign as an organization.

Kansas Women Vote.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 3.—The weather could not have been more favorable for a heavy vote at the municipal election in cities of the third class in Kansas than it was yesterday. Returns received here, though meager, indicate that there has been an unusually large woman vote polled.

Minnesota Has a Quiet Day.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 3.—In none of the Minnesota town elections held yesterday were political issues at stake. Only a few reports are at hand. In only a few towns was the liquor question voted upon. Lanesboro and Litchfield are among the towns that decided upon no license. Winnebago City voted for license.

Democrat Retires.

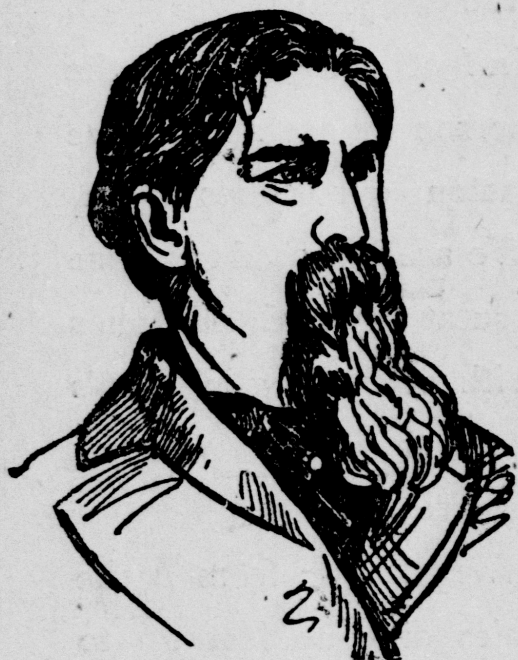

APPLETON, Wis., April 3.—Congressman Lyman E. Barnes of the Eighth Wisconsin district has published a letter declining to be a candidate for re-nomination. He gives as his reason that he can not afford to neglect his legal practice and other private business. Barnes is a democrat and was elected in 1892 by 3,000 majority.

The Michigan Election.

DETROIT, Mich., April 3.—The returns of the municipal elections held in this state yesterday are in favor of the republicans. The party leaders claim the state has gone overwhelmingly in their favor.

Big Strike On in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Four thousand painters and paperhangers are on strike here. The painters struck yesterday. This will probably draw in kindred trades.

SENATOR VOORHEES.

ufacturer and against all manufacturing interests."

Claiming that under the operation of the McKinley act a too great amount of revenue was raised, he pointed out the great saving which he said would be made by the passage of the Wilson bill. "It will be found from the schedules of this bill that the tariff taxes now officially ascertained and paid under existing law on the wants, necessities and daily consumption of the laboring men, women and children of the United States have been reduced more than $76,000,000 per annum."

He blamed the bill for the troubles occurring at Homestead, Pa., and elsewhere, saying: "It can never be forgotten that the enactment of the McKinley law in October, 1890, was followed almost immediately by a reduction of the wages of all workers in iron and steel, beginning at Homestead, in Pennsylvania, under Carnegie, resulting in bloodshed and wholesale murder and extending to all parts of the country and to almost every branch of manufacturing industry."

Mr. Voorhees defended the ad valorem system as fairer, honest and more easily understood than specific duties. On the subject of the sugar schedule he said:

"Absolute free trade in sugar is an attractive theme, but no such thing has ever existed for a single hour since the organization of this government. A moderate duty has always been imposed on sugar and it has always been a staunch revenue support to the government. In that great model of a democratic tariff for revenue only—the tariff of 1847—it was declared in short and simple phrase that 'sugar of all kinds' and 'syrup of the sugar' were subject to a duty laid tax of 30 per cent ad valorem. The fact that the duty tax on sugar has inured more to the benefit of the revenues of the government and less to the profits of private parties than any other tax known to tariff legislation may be stated as the main reason why the democratic party has never made an issue against it. Every dollar collected from a tariff on sugar and paid into the treasury relieves some other article of even higher necessity in the economy of life from the imposition of tariff taxation."

Of the whisky tax, he said: "In turning to another subject on which criticism has expended itself, my task is easy and the way smooth. In securing a sufficient revenue for the support of the government with as slight a tax as possible on the necessities of life, I have at all times earnestly favored an increased tax on whisky. I would be glad to-day if the pending bill provided for a tax of $1.20 per gallon, instead of $1.10, as it does. Revenue raised from distilled spirits, the purchase and consumption of which is never a necessity of life, is a deep gratification to me, and the fact that twenty millions of the surplus accruing under this bill will be furnished by the tax on whisky is a genuine joy to my mind."

Speaking of the proposed income tax, which he warmly upheld, Mr. Voorhees said: "The proposition contained in the pending bill to levy a tax of 2 per cent on all net incomes of corporations and of individuals in excess of $4,000 per annum is so just and equitable toward the hard-working taxpayers of meager resources throughout the entire country that not a word in its defense or explanation would seem necessary here or anywhere else. But the narrow and corroding selfishness of riches has been aroused by this simple measure of justice

MILLER VOTED OUT BY MILTON FOLK.

THE CONGREGATIONAL PULPIT DECLARED VACANT.

A Week Ago Last Sunday They Declined to Accept His Resignation But at a Special Meeting Held Last Saturday It Was Different—News Of the County.

There is a misunderstanding between Milton Congregationalists. Rev. Richard Miller, formerly of this city, stands in the breach. One faction wants him to resign. The other refuses to permit him. The trouble was summed up by a Milton Congregationalist to a Gazette reporter as follows: "Some time ago Rev. Mr. Miller gave notice of his resignation from the Milton pastorate. On Sunday, March 25, he withdrew his notice in compliance with a petition signed by a large majority of the paying members of the church and society, guaranteeing the salary, and by an expression of the members of the church and society present, the vote standing 36 to 11 in favor of withdrawing the notice. The opposition called a meeting for March 30 contrary to the rules and by holding two caucuses and packing the meeting with children and those not in good and regular standing passed a vote to vacate the pastorate and to empower the deacons to supply the pulpit. They invited Elder Miller to preach last Sunday, but he acted under his contract, declined their invitation and filled the pulpit. His legal advisers and ministerial friends caused him to remain and abide by the terms of his contract. Although counsel for no charges of any kind were made against him, and his offers to leave the matter to a council or to a committee were refused. His contract calls for three months' notice at the end of the calendar year. The cause of the trouble seems to arise from false statements made and from petty stories and jealousies from those who in former years have run things and who predicted failure on the church building and church work, but the new church is paid for and fifty-five added to the membership."

MILTON, April 3.—At a special meeting of the members of the Congregational church, held last Saturday afternoon, pursuant to notice, the pulpit was declared vacant by a vote of thirty-seven to sixteen. The deacons were directed to furnish a supply for the present. The friends of Rev. Richard Miller hold that this action is illegal and his opponents that the action of the Sunday previous in declining to accept his resignation is invalid. The reverend gentlemen occupied the desk Sunday morning. The board of election in this precinct was composed of the following persons: Inspectors—K. Killam, W. H. Davidson, J. C. Goodrich. Clerks—F. M. Palmeter, W. W. Clarke. Ballot clerks—J. E. Davidson, F. G. Borden. Rev. Richard Miller made a business trip to St. Louis last week. The M. E. church society are building sheds back of their church for the accommodation of members who come to church with teams. W. P. Clarke made a business trip to Janesville Friday. The Men's Contest at the Methodist church takes place next Tuesday, April 11, instead of April 3, as announced last week. Clem W. Crumb is enjoying a ten days' vacation at home. The Seventh Day Baptist social Thursday evening will be a novelty. The lunch will not only be served by the gentlemen of the society but is to be cooked and prepared by them. Be sure and try the same. Mrs. John Cunningham, of Janesville, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Boss Saturday. President W. C. Whitford occupied the pit at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning. William Smith, Esq., who has fond anticipations of being a judge in this circuit, was a visitor in the village on Sunday. The public school opened for the spring term Tuesday with a good attendance. Milt. Whitford shot a wild goose Sunday, which he got, and brought down another which he lost. Misses Maggie and Maude Salisbury, of Eagle, were the guests of Miss Birdie Smith Saturday and Sunday. A Janesville man has opened a shoe store in the Hamilton building vacated by Coon & Shaw.

PERSONALS FROM FOOTVILLE

CHOIR WAS A NOTABLE ONE.

Many Churches Contributed to Services at the Congregational Church.

A notable feature of the union meeting at the Congregational church Sunday night was the music. "The Heavens Are Telling From Hayden's Creation and 'The Glory of the Lord' from Handel's Messiah were among the selections. The choir was made up as follows:

Sopranos—Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Mrs. Christine Hawley, Mrs. J. F. Sweeney, Miss Marie Wilcox. Alto—Mrs. S. B. Lewis, Mrs. C. L. Clark, Miss Franc Edwards, Miss Bertha Sayles, Mrs. A. W. Halls, Mrs. Archie Crawford.

Tenors—George K. Colling, C. N. Vankirk, F. J. Barfoot, Henry Garbutt, W. S. Jeffris, L. A. Williams. Basses—Dr. W. F. Hoyt, Dr. O. G. Bennett, Archie Crawford, Wm. Bladon, George G. Paris, G. L. Noyes.

Educated Horses Act Well.

Of W. C. Coup's equestrian curriculum which will be at the Myers Grand Friday and Saturday the St. Paul Globe says:

"The educated horses entertained another large audience at the New-market last evening. They are above descending to the ordinary circus horse tricks, and their feats are so far superior to what is expected from the brute creation that the spectator wonders where the limit to their educational capacity is. The trick donkey does the 'funny business' in the horse shows, and seems to enjoy it as well as any comedian enjoys his part. The combination is unique in its kind, and draws crowds of people who never visited the ordinary theatrical entertainment."

BOARD SHOULD PASS ON CITY TEACHERS.

COMMISSIONERS SUPPOSED TO EXAMINE INSTRUCTORS.

Instead of Being a Mere Finance Committee They are Looked to Under the Law to Direct the Course or Study in All the Grades of the City Schools.

EDITOR GAZETTE: The law pertaining to the public schools of the city of Janesville imposes the duty on the board of education to organize schools in the several wards thereof and contract with and employ all teachers for the same who shall have first been licensed by said board. And at its pleasure to remove there. It also makes it the duty of such board to examine all teachers making application to teach in the schools and to license such of them, who on such examination prove themselves competent teachers. This law was enacted in the year 1858, and has ever since been applicable to the subject mentioned.

The wisdom of the requirements are apparent to any who has made the education of the youth of our country a subject of thought. More than a pecuniary interest is required as a qualification for the performance of the high duties imposed by this law. This board of education is composed of individual commissioners who under the law assume to faithfully execute the trusts imposed thereby all of which are personal charges not to be abrogated or delegated to another during the continuance of the duty or trust by a lesser power than created and fixed it. The child and pupil for whose especial benefit schools are organized and maintained have the right to ask this much, and the parent and citizen to assume that none but such as are competent to do what is required by the law will seek the position, and to demand when accepted the responsibilities be not waived but gracefully performed or relinquished.

How well these requirements have been complied with heretofore is now a matter of school history. I am cognizant of the fact in the early days of our schools under this law that the board of education entertained the construction of it to be its duty to attend personally to the examination of all teachers therein and strictly performed such duty and also at frequent stated periods met all such teachers at the high school building when such examinations were continued, and instructions were given in the theory and practice of teaching and should any teacher be then found lagging or incompetent as teacher for any cause, he or she was removed. Since my personal knowledge as respects the practice of the board in this regard has ceased, my opportunities for information on these subjects have also in a measure abated. But I have been informed, that the aforementioned requirements have practically been abandoned, and the matter thereof relegated to the principal teacher in the high school department, as in respect thereto the board of education is now in practice and in fact a mere finance committee and medium of communication between such principal teacher and the common council.

SCHOOL BOARD'S LAST MEETING.

Bill Allowed and President Phelps Given a Vote of Thanks.

Janesville's school board held their last meeting as a board last night. Sunday bills allowed to $82.00 were audited; A. J. Strong was re-elected as a substitute teacher at $50 a month; and a vote of thanks was tendered President Phelps for the excellent way in which he had performed the duties of his office.

Beloit Glee Club.

Don't forget that the Beloit Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs sing at the Congregational church next Friday night. The clubs have just finished a trip in which they sang at Chicago, Elgin, Milwaukee, Fort Atkinson and Racine, and so Janesville gets the benefit of all this in their concert here. The Beloit clubs are on a par with those of Cornell, Amherst and other eastern colleges. Be sure to hear them.

Twenty-Five Dollars Reward.

Some malicious person put a steel key into the fire alarm box 515, breaking the key in the lock, rendering the box useless for a time. A reward of $25 is hereby offered for the arrest and conviction of the person who thus tampered with the fire alarm service.

OSBORNE SKIRT IS HANDSOME.

Goes Well in Combination With the Gerald Basque Already Shown.

Many have taken advantage of the chance to get a pattern of the Gerald basque which was illustrated in The Gazette last week. The Osborne skirt which properly goes with it is a very popular and stylish skirt, cut with seven gores, thus affording the desired fullness with a very graceful effect. It has a bias seam down the middle of the back. This skirt is very desirable for any of the popular woolen materials and seasonable silks, and combines well with any style of basque or waist.

Half of the pattern is given in five pieces: Half of apron, two side gores, half of back breadth, and belt. The back breadth and about one-half of each side-gore are to be gathered or gauged, and mounted to the belt back of the notch: forward of this the top is to be laid in shallow plaits or gathered, or have shallow gores laid in it to fit it smoothly to the figure. A narrow binding may be used instead of the belt.

FAIR MRS. SEMPLE, DAUGHTER OF TYLER.

SHE STILL RESIDES IN THE MONUMENTAL CITY.

Letitia Tyler Semple. Once the First Lady in the Land, Now an Inmate of the Louise Home for Aged Notables.

IT WILL BE A matter of considerable surprise to many people to learn that the daughter of an administration as many years distant in time as is that of President John Tyler, Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple, the second daughter of President Tyler, is at present living at this late day, a resident of the city in which her father found his official home, and in which she once dispensed hospitality as mistress of the white house.

During Mrs. Semple's reign at the white house the demands on the time of the "First Lady of the Land" were even more exacting than at present. Three days in the week, from morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, were assigned to the reception of visitors, the same hours of the other three days being devoted to the returning of calls. On pleasant afternoons it was the custom of the President to drive, after 4 o'clock, his favorite companion being his daughter Letitia. While driving through the heavily-wooded districts which then marked the present suburbs of the capital city, Mrs. Semple would often sing to her father his favorite ballads and songs.

The President's family was also in formally at home every evening until 10 o'clock, when any one and every one was privileged to pay his or her respects to the drawing room.

Mrs. Semple presided, among other festivities, over the dinner and ball given by the President in honor of the Prince de Joinville and his suite. She was present also at the stretching of the first telegraph wire between Washington and Baltimore, by Morse, the inventor. She witnessed, also, the first submarine explosion in American waters, and the application of the first electric light to the dome of the capitol. She was also given the honor of christening the first iron ship which was propelled by steam in the American navy, the Allegheny.

When the civil war began Mrs. Semple hastened from Brooklyn, where she was then living, to Williamsburg, Va., where she aided in the establishment of hospitals for the sick and wounded. Her jewelry she sent to Richmond to be added to the fund for the purchase of food and clothing for the southern army.

At the close of the war Mrs. Semple found herself penniless, and removing to Baltimore established there an "Eclectic Institute," in which she gathered for education and training the daughters of her beloved south. Over this institution she presided for eleven years, making it her home until compelled by ill-health to close its doors. Mr. Corcoran, the founder of the "Louise Home," asked Mrs. Semple to be his guest there for the remainder of her life, and she has lived there ever since, making occasional visits to her old friends throughout Virginia, and to the scenes of her younger days.

The New York Elevated Street Railways The elevated railroads of New York city carried 221,000,000 passengers during 1893. Twenty new engines were ordered during the year. The number of passenger coaches employed in the service is 1,116, and 75 new ones were added during the last four months. Improvements in the structure continue to be made, and the light 50 and 60 pound rails are being replaced by 90 pound rails. The locomotives consume over 200,000 tons of the best white ash anthracite per year. The coal makes no smoke. Over 3,000 trains per day are run, the exact number being 3,300. The employees number 5,000, and all are paid by the hour. Twelve hours is the longest time any man is required to work per day on the roads. The maximum pay is $3.50 per day. Engineers earn $100 per month.

NOT A CLEAN CAMPAIGN.

It is no uncommon thing that a button-hole canvass is the dirtiest canvass that can be made. This has been the case in the judgeship campaign. Judge Bennett has been assailed in every part of the district by stories which no paper would print. In Catholic neighborhoods he was pictured as an A. P. A.; in German districts as the author of the Bennett law; in Green and Jefferson counties as a man who took burdens off his own county and saddled them on the rest of the circuit; in Rock as bringing many cases here from Green and Jefferson that his nephew might profit at Rock county's expense.

Non-partisan action has been urged in Rock county. "Stand by the democratic nominee" was the cry in Green and Jefferson. Under these circumstances it is probable that the vote will be greatly split. The most venomous attacks by Mr. Smith's backers were put on foot during the last two days. Nothing but their lateness prevented them from becoming boom-angers, for wherever they were exposed strong reaction resulted. There is no reason to doubt that Judge Bennett's majority will be a satisfactory one. The only regret is that there was not a general realization of the tactics employed by his opponents so that the rebuke at the polls could be made more adequate.

A SPRING STORY.

A Few Things You Ought Surely to Do at This Season.

In the spring we feel tired, languid and debilitated. The change from cold to warm weather causes a depression of the vital forces resulting in an inactive state of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Headache is common, and the blood undergoes changes which greatly debilitate the system.

The complexion is apt to be sallow and dark circles gather under the eyes. If something is not done to overcome these conditions, they will last indefinitely and may result in severe sickness. Read the experience of the well known Mrs. A. A. Herrick, of 40 Everett Street, East Somerville, Massachusetts.

"Two years ago I contracted a very severe cold that settled all over my body. My head and left side pained me all the time, I had no appetite and could not sleep at all nights. I was so nervous I thought I would be insane and any work seemed like a mountain ahead of me.

"I would become completely exhausted on the slightest exertion. I was obliged to give up and take to the bed. I lay there several weeks but got no better. I began to fear I should never get well, as nothing seemed to affect me. I was finally advised to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and did so.

MRS. A. A. HERRICK.

"It seems to quiet me just as soon as I began using it. Before a week I could rest and sleep through the night and could feel my strength coming back.

"When I begun the second bottle I could see I had improved very much. I continued taking it and in a few months no one would know I had been sick with severe nervous prostration.

"It also cured me of female troubles which I had been a great sufferer from. It is a wonderful medicine and I cannot say enough in praise of it. I advise any person afflicted with any of these complaints to use it, and I am positive they will get well."

I want you to be perfectly strong and healthy the best possible thing to do is to take this great curer and strengthener. You can be cured quicker in the spring than at any other season. You must take a spring medicine, everyone knows that, and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the best and most certain because it always cures.

It is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

SOME WELLKNOWN FACES.

Lord Spencer, the Red Earl.

Earl Spencer, the first lord of the admiralty in the British cabinet, who was at one time discussed as a possible successor of Mr. Gladstone in the premiership, is popularly known by the nickname of the "Red Earl," because of the hue of his long, bushy beard. His lordship was born in 1835, the fifth Earl of Spencer, and was baptized John Poyntz. He was educated at Harrow and at Trinity college, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1857. Earl Spencer took office as lord lieutenant of Ireland in 1868 and retained that position until the resignation of the Gladstone ministry in 1874. When the Liberals returned to office in 1880, he was appointed lord president of the council. On the resignation of Earl Cowper, May 4, 1883, Earl Spencer was nominated lord lieutenant of Ireland again, retaining his seat in the cabinet. When Mr. Gladstone returned to office in 1886, Earl Spencer became the second time lord president of the council, and as he had adopted home rule his support was of great value. In August, 1892, he became first lord of the admiralty, an office which he retains under Lord Rosebery's premiership.

A Dangerous Joke.

"I don't think," said the young man, "that I ever want to be engaged again."

And the young woman flared up immediately and said:

"Very well, sir; you may consider everything over. I will return you your letters and photographs and presents right now."

"But I don't believe you understand me."

"Yes, I do, perfectly. You said you never wanted to be engaged again."

"But do you know why?"

"No, and I don't care."

"It's because I want to marry the girl I'm engaged to now."

And the world became beautiful once more.

The Real Strength.

The boss loafer around the country store was making bets on his strength and giving a large bluff to a little fellow who didn't seem to have strength enough to raise his voice.

"By gum," said the big fellow to the proprietor, "I'm as stout as four of him."

"Hardly, I guess," objected the proprietor.

"I say I am," continued the rustic Sandow. "I can raise that barrel of flour four feet and he can't phase it."

"That's no sign of a duck's nest," said the proprietor with crushing force; "he can raise the price of it, and you can't," and the boss loafer went away without asking for more goods on credit."

Rain "Needed" in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 3.—Crop reports from Kansas leave no room to doubt that the wheat plant on a large area is in a critical condition and in urgent need of rain. Fully 3,000,000 acres out of the 4,500,000 in the state are suffering, increasing with every day of windy weather.

A Cry For Help.

In the stillness of the night is sufficiently startling. What if no aid be at hand or we know not where the cry comes? This is not the case with that mute appeal made to the resources of medical science, ever ready, ever available by disease on every hand. A prompt means of self help for the malarious, the rheumatic, the dyspeptic, the bilious, and persons troubled with impending kidney complaints, is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an ever "present help in time of trouble" for all such hapless individuals. They should not delay a moment in seeing its aid. Experience has shown its wide utility, the recommendation of eminent physicians everywhere sanction its use. Nervous, thin, debilitated invalids gain bodily substance and vigor by a course of this fine invigorant, which is eminently serviceable, also, to the aged and convalescent.

Special notice to Ladies.

BIG VOTE POURED IN FROM EVERY WARD.

FATHERS RUNNING WELL ALL AROUND TOWN.

In the Fourth He is Gaining Through a Solid German Vote—Gaulke Surprises the Old-Timers—There Was No Disturbance at any of the Polls—Local Political News.

Split tickets will be plentiful tonight, but even democratic weather, it is believed, cannot defeat the republican candidates. Three aldermen out of five will keep the common council republican. These are practically assured while Henry Gaulke's phenomenal run in the Fourth ward bids fair to increase the number by one. Gaulke's German friends have rallied to his support most faithfully, the democratic Germans voting for the head of the republican ticket as well as for their aldermanic favorite. August Lutz is the only democrat who is polling what the managers consider a satisfactory vote in the Fourth. An effort was made to force Lutz' friends into voting for Murphy by threatening to withhold Irish votes from Lutz but the plan was only partly successful. The Fourth has been the scene of hard fighting this year and voters with a thirst for democratic beer grieve to think it is all over.

On other ward tickets there has been less contest. In the Third the republican nominees were not obliged to worry about their own election but put in good work for the city ticket. George Brink in the Fifth drew out a vote early in the day that surprised many.

In this ward Street Commissioner Hanthorn was apparently running ahead of his ticket.

Farely a Democratic Dodge.

Democrats have gained by the failure to enforce registration. In every ward the officers realized this as they saw the big votes rolled in from a few democratic strongholds. The number of men voted from one five room building would have filled the house and most of the front yard. Challengers, however alert could do nothing under such conditions.

The local campaign opened with democrats in a very despondent mood. The chances were all against them. There was no direct issue that could be raised. Municipal affairs have been exceptionally well managed during the last year and a republican administration has reflected credit on the city. The managers of the "un-terrified" gave up all thought of attack along this line after a few days and changed to the "A. P. A." cry. This bugaboo was worked vehemently. A singular fact, however, was that the attack was directed solely against suspects on the republican ticket. Democratic candidates and democratic workers who were known to owe allegiance to the three mystic initials were encouraged and given ample backing. The campaign was not two weeks old before the new war cry was seen to be a trick for the benefit of the democratic party pure and simple.

How Other Candidates Fared.

According to all indications T. S. Nolan was running like a quarter horse in all wards and the judicial contest will beyond doubt result in Judge Bennett carrying the city by a round majority.

The voting was very quietly done, and there was no disturbance about the polls.

The vote at 3 o'clock stood as follows, comparison being made with April, 1893:

	1893.	1894.
First ward—
First Precinct.....	182	218
Second Precinct.....	195	285
Second Ward—
First Precinct.....	164	174
Second Precinct.....	219	352
Third Ward—
One Precinct.....	425	537
Fourth Ward—
First Precinct.....	270	329
Second Precinct.....	262	354
Fifth Ward—
One Precinct.....	302	351
Total.....	2,033	2,500

The vote in 1893 will be remembered as very large, only eleven below the vote in the presidential election of 1892.

Only Two Officers On Duty.

When G. R. Kneff came down town yesterday he found that he and William Eldredge were the only election inspectors or clerks in the First precinct for the Second ward who could serve. M. P. Richardson was on the ticket, and H. A. Doty was sick, while neither clerk could give his time. The vacancies were filled and they took in the ballots as usual.

The only excitement about the polls was in the First precinct of the Fourth ward where Officer Hogan reprimanded a man whom he thought was electioneering within the limit laid down by law. The man, whose name was Lawrence was driving a carriage and after some argument the discussion was dropped. Lawrence refused to "shut up" on Hogan's command and told the officer "arrest me if you want to, but you can't make me shut up."

BOOKS ARE NOW UP TO DATE.

Treasurer Murphy's Settlement With the County For Court Fines.

The Gazette last evening said on the direct personal authority of the county treasurer that City Treasurer Murphy had made but one settlement since 1888 for municipal court fines. The receipts show that he settled in 1893 and again in 1894, and that the county received all fees and fines to which it was entitled.

As a matter of fact nobody who knows Treasurer Murphy has ever questioned his absolute honesty or suspected that the county has suffered any loss through him. The only criticism has been that he failed to make yearly settlements as the law provides. To this there is no contradiction. For the last two years, however, settlements have been made regularly and the books are well up to date.

VOTING SPLIT CITY TICKETS.

Local Authorities At Variance As to How They Should Count.

All around town today the question under discussion was what effect the wrong marking of split tickets would have. Quite a number of voters made a cross in the square at the head of the republican ticket and then marked Murphy's name in the independent column.

"That will throw out the ticket," said one disputant.

Others appealed to Judge Bennett and other legal authorities and got a contrary answer. The general decision was that a ticket on which the republican square was crossed and Murphy's name checked in addition counted only for the republican candidates.

FACTORY VOTE IS REPUBLICAN.

Democrats Given Short Shift By Cotton Mill Employes.

Twenty-two votes were cast by employees of the lower cotton mills this year. Last year most of them were democrats. The men have had enough of democracy, however, and sixteen straight republican tickets went in this year. Most of the others were splits.

MORMONS GAINING IN JANESVILLE.

ELDER PENDER BUILDING UP A CHURCH HERE.

He Is Encouraged By Receiving News From Kansas City That the Garden of Eden Lot Has Been Given Over to the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints.

Janesville's Mormon colony, or as the members phrase it the Church of the Latter Day Saints of Jesus Christ, is flourishing. New converts are being added and services are held each Sunday. Elder Pender, who has charge of the work here represents the "reorganized church as distinguished from the Brighamites." He is now encouraged over news which he has just received from Kansas City.

Temple Lot, the sacred piece of Mormon soil in Independence, for which the reorganized church and Brighamites have been fighting in the courts for four years, is decided by Judge Phillips of the District court to be the property of the reorganized church. The Brighamite faction of the Mormons is by the opinion enjoined from asserting title to the property, the cloud is removed, and full possession allowed to the plaintiff. The successful organization has its headquarters at Lamoni, Ia. Its following numbers 25,000 souls, and its president is Joseph Smith, Jr., a son of Prophet Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism.

Besides settling the title to the much-prized Temple Lot, which is known among the Mormons as the Garden of Eden, the opinion incidentally finds from the evidence that the reorganized church of Latter Day Saints at Lamoni, Iowa, is the real church, which was founded in 1830 by Prophet Joseph Smith, and that factions of the Mormon church in Utah and in Independence are offshoots of the mother church and have departed from the teachings of the prophet.

This Is The Garden of Eden.

Temple Lot originally consisted of sixty acres of ground, but its area has been gradually reduced until now it comprises a block of property 300 feet square located on one of the highest eminences in Independence. It is surrounded by a barb wire fence and on the northeast corner is a small frame church which is used by the Hedrickites. The history of Temple Lot dates back almost to the time of the inception of the Mormon faith and is associated with the days when the saints were a power in Jackson county.

In 1832 it is claimed that an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph Smith, the prophet, in a vision, and told him that Jackson county was the site of the original Garden of Eden and that Temple Lot was the very spot where the fig tree grew from which our first parents obtained their wardrobe. Here it was said that on the last day when the earth is to crumble into glowing ashes and be swept away by the winds of the universe the faithful Mormons were to congregate and ascend to heaven from the magnificent temple ordained to be erected.

JAIL BREAKER ATKINSON CAUGHT

The Ringleader of the Big Delivery Captured This Morning.

The police got a man that they wanted to-day. He was William Atkinson, the ring leader of the big jail delivery some time ago, when McLean, the counterfeiter, and several others got away. Atkinson was surprised in the Chicago & Northwestern freight yards this morning when the officers were making for a drunk. He took to his heels when he was recognized but they caught him and now he is in jail with state's prison staring him in the face.

A HARD SPRING ON WHISKERS.

Strong Gales Have Swept a Good Many Sets Away.

This has been a hard spring on whiskers. March gales were destructive, and hirstute undergrowths suffered greatly. F. C. Hazelton came down town yesterday completely disguised. The whiskers were all gone, and in addition the glasses that always identified him, were missing. His best friends passed him without a smile. He walked into Nelson Brothers' office and head Horatio Nelson looked at each other a minute in astonishment. Both had smooth faces. Nelson's beard had been the pride of the barn. Since he has it cut off his little girl has refused to recognize him but falls upon her face on the floor when he enters. This is no lie. Mr. Nelson tells the story himself. Stewart A. Chase is another. He didn't have a beard but his mustache was the joy of artistic souls. A gust of wind got it and now he's beardless. Dr. Joe Whiting has had his French pointed chin covering trimmed down thin and after awhile it will all go. C. C. Russell's is still intact but there's no telling where lightning will strike next.

BRIEF NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

Peterson-Dee.

A very pleasant social event will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning when William Peterson, of Chicago, and Miss Maggie Dee, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dee, will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Mr. Peterson is a substantial young business man whom it is a pleasure to know while Miss Dee is a young lady with hosts of friends which she has won by her pleasant manner and kindly way. Many Janesville friends will wish the young couple joy without measure and unalloyed with care. The ceremony will be performed at 11:30 o'clock. Chicago will be their home.

Change In the American Force.

Change in train time has resulted in changing the force on the American Express company's lines. Will Watt now takes the Caledonia run in addition to running a wagon. R. D. Lamont is placed in charge of the transfer house, Charles Knippenburg takes the Ripon run, Clare Beers is on the Kenosha-Rockford run and Martin Trulson assists Agent McLean in the office.

Pleasant Masquerade Last Night.

The last and one of the most pleasant masquerades of the season was given by the Henrietta club at the Armory last night. The costumes were of all kinds and included many handsome ones. Smith's orchestra furnished the music and everybody had a good time.

Surgical Operation Was Successful.

Dr. Joe Whiting assisted by Dr. James Gibson performed a critical surgical operation on a boy named Parkhurst who lives near Footville, last night. The operation was for appendicitis and was successful as the obstruction was removed.

Good Templars At Work.

A committee of the Good Templars Lodge met at Dr. H. A. Palmer's office last night to consider work for that order during the next quarter. It is expected that there will be a renewed interest in temperance work during the summer.

BAKERS MAY FIGHT ON BREAD PRICES.

ARE GETTING FLOUR CHEAPER THAN EVER.

One of the Janesville Purveyors Said to Be Very Much Inclined Toward a Reduction in Price—He Thinks the Figures Should Come Down in Common Fairness.

There is likely to be a bread war in Janesville before many days. A cut in price is proposed and the one pound loaf may sell considerably below the present figure. The explanation given to a Gazette reporter this afternoon was that wheat had never been cheaper than now and bread never any dearer.

Four and one half bushels of wheat, at 60 cents per bushel, will produce one barrel of flour. The real value of this flour, to the wholesaler, may be put down at $3.90 to $3.15 per barrel, and the price for fancy and extra grades of spring wheat stock will run up to $3.40 or $3.60.

The loaf of bread is supposed to weigh one pound, but the ordinary loaf is quite content if it weighs fourteen ounces and if considerable percentage of that weight is water. This may not be very satisfactory to the consumer, but it suits the loaf or its baker, and his interest in it is a large one.

In round numbers a barrel of flour of good average quality will produce nearly three hundred loaves of five cent calibre. This calculation shows that the flour in the loaf costs, within a very slight margin, one cent. The other four cents are for baking, labor, handling and distributing.

DEFECTIVE POLE IS NOT LIKED.

Many First Ward People Complain of a "Dangerous Nuisance."

First ward people are strong in their condemnation of the telephone pole on Academy street, where Dr. C. L. Clark's horse was shocked, and say that the pole is a dangerous thing. From the top to the bottom runs a heavy wire brace that it is held away from the pole 15 feet from the ground by an iron rod. How this brace wire became charged is not known, but some days ago a boy took hold of the wire and could not let go. Neighbors heard his screams and went to his assistance before he was seriously injured.

Important Meeting of the W. C. T. U.

The executive committee of the Rock county W. C. T. U. will hold a session at the home of Mrs. E. E. Yates, 166 N. High street, Thursday April 5 at 3 p. m. It is hoped that the members of that committee will make an effort to be present as business of importance to the interest of the union will be considered and we need the council of the whole committee. By order of the president.

STUDY OF SIGNS LIFTS THE VEIL.

WHICH SURROUNDS SOME SIMPLE SYMBOLS.

Many of Them Are Hoary with Antiquity, and Linked Together They Form a Chain of History Worthy of Deep Study.

THE SIMPLEST symbols of which we have any knowledge are the letters of the alphabet and the Arabic numerals, and right there our ignorance begins. For those letters and numerals have come down to us hoary with antiquity, and every one of them, unknown to us, possesses its own meaning and occult power. So it is, also, with other simple forms with which we are familiar: the obelisk, the cube, the triangle—every one of them is replete with significance to the occultist.

It has ever been the custom of man to convey meanings by symbol and emblem; and whether these be the "three golden balls" of the pawnbroker, or the striped red and white pole of the barber, the same intention is obvious. Yet not everybody knows that the golden balls were golden "pills" and the arms of the Medici family in the Middle Ages, while the stripe round the barber's pole was the ribbon which he wound spirally round the arm of a patient prior to blood-letting, in the days when the barber was also a surgeon.

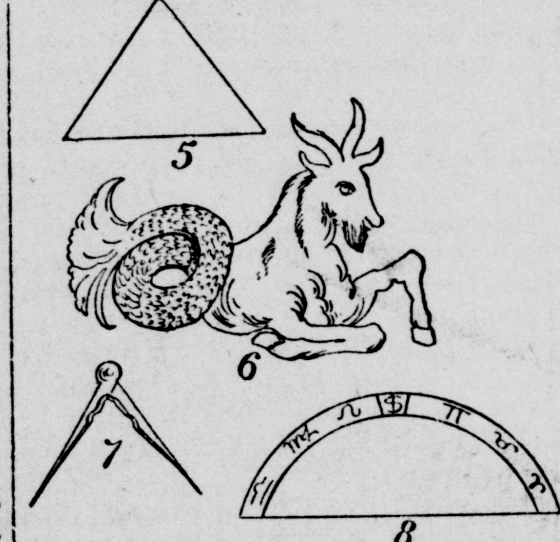

All of the ancient "mysteries" were contained in symbols and emblems; thus, the (1) Sistrum was prominent in the Egyptian feasts of Isis, as was also the (2) Ank, (Crux Ansata, or emblem of life). The (3) Ark of the Sanctuary among the Hebrews was practically a boat; and, what is not generally known, is that the form of its cabin, or shelter, was that of the Hebrew letter He (He), an aspirate signifying breathing, or "life," the second and fourth letters of the name Jahveh, or Jehovah: יהוה, and Moses was written Moseh, or "saved from the water." The Egyptian Isis, oddly enough, had the same meaning, "saved from the water," being also, in the original, Nemesis, or retribution.

This is all very curious in its relation to the Flood myths, of which something has already been told in these pages; and we thus see the idea of the Deluge kept alive equally by the Egyptians and the Hebrews by symbols.

This idea of the destruction of the world by a Deluge exists equally among the Masonic symbols, as is shown in the instance of the (4) Cornucopia and (5) Capricornus, or the goat. The allusion contained in the Cornucopia, or "horn of plenty," is to the myth of Capricorn, who was also Pan and Bacchus, and who, with some other deities, while feasting near the banks of the Nile, was suddenly attacked by the dreaded giant Typhon, son of Kronos or Saturn, and brother of Isis. In order to escape, all took to the water, when Pan became part fish and part goat. Now, Pan or Bacchus is the Greek form of Jahveh, meaning Nature, or all material things. The Illustrated American says that the myth is, therefore, plain enough and refers always to the Deluge in the zodiacal sign Capricorn. Pan is cast into the sea or water (Aquarius) when the goat part of him escapes by climbing the high mountains, and the fish part by swimming; all who can not do one or the other of these things must perish.

But why should this myth be perpetuated in the symbolism of Free Masonry? Why, surely, enough? And here are still two other symbols of the same character, whose place in Masonry is equally inexplicable; they are the (6) Pyramid and (7) compasses. The also Vesta, is a symbolism of fire. And as the sign Capricorn is emblematic of the destruction of the world by water, so is Cancer of the same catastrophe by fire. It is then surely significant that in the keystone of the "Royal Arch" should be placed the zodiacal sign for cancer (♋). The most remarkable point in connection with the equilateral, the Pyramid, and the compasses, set according to Masonic rule, at 60 degrees—remains to be disclosed. As is well known, the obliquity of the earth to the ecliptic is 23 degrees and 8 minutes. Now, if you take an ordinary globe and turn the figure of the earth until 60 degrees in the meridian are on the horizon, you will have this certainly significant result: the Great Pyramid of Ghizeh will be exactly in the zenith, and, per contra, the marvelous "Easter Island"—treated of in the Illustrated

American—in the nadir. Whereupon the present equator of the earth will occupy the exact position of its present polar axis, forming an angle of 60 degrees to the horizon, and vice versa. Not only this, but the equator does at this time bear the same relation to the plane of the great pyramid as does the "passage" on its north side, of which so much has been written by Mr. Piazzi-Smyth, John Taylor, Flinders Petrie, Professor Proctor, and other scientific men, and which is believed to have pointed to the pole-star (a Draconis) at the time of the completion of the pyramid. Truly, it would seem that all of this might be deemed cause for reflection—at least, on the part of those who ever reflect. For, it is to be remembered that

"In that day, he which shall be upon the house-top, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away; and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back."

"Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left."

"Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left." Luke xvii, 31-36.

A CHICAGO GIRL.

Miss Olive May, Who Is Winning Over New York Dramatic Critics.

As already recorded in these pages, in the account of the first performance in New York of "The Butterflies," a hit has been made in that piece by the bright, clever acting of the soubrette. The Illustrated American says that Miss Olive May is a Chicago girl. Most of her life has been spent in her native city, where she was a graduate of the Conservatory School of Acting. Her acting in a performance given by the students of McVicker's theater was witnessed by that delightful and popular comedian, Mr. Stuart Robson, who was so pleased with the debutante that he engaged her to play in "The Henrietta." Miss May remained for three seasons with Mr. Robson. When "In Mizzoura" was produced by Nat C. Goodwin in Chicago last summer, Miss May took the part of Kate Vernon for a week in place of Miss Belle Archer, who was ill. She then came east and secured an engagement in the company formed by Messrs. Robert Hilliard and Paul Arthur for "The Nominee." It was while playing in this piece at the Bijou theater that she was engaged by Mr. Charles Frohman for Suzanne in "The Butterflies," a character in which she has made a conspicuous hit.

The Printer Knew It.

Some days ago while Editor C. O. Fenton of the Logansport (Ind.) Times, a prohibition organ, was attending the state convention of his party at Indianapolis, a mischievous compositor inserted a local saying: "For a nice, cool mug of beer go to J. P. Sebastian's." The entire edition was run off and largely circulated before the editor learned of the circumstance. It is needless to say that the gay young compositor was summarily discharged, but Editor Fenton is still trying to explain it to indignant subscribers.

Australian Eggs.

Eggs are now shipped from Australia to England. A trial shipment, made by Hon. J. H. Conner of Victorian eggs and cheese, was lately inspected by an officer from the department of the agent-general for Victoria. With regard to the packing of the eggs, they had, in the first place, been rubbed over with grease and afterward placed with bran, flour, lime and pollard in small cases. When opened they were found to be perfectly fresh and sweet. The cheeses, which consisted of both forty pounds and "small loaf" sizes, were sound and of good flavor.

We have a new house, a good one, that we want to sell cheap, and take as part payment $1000 of tobacco, of the crops of 1892 and 1893. Here is your chance.

We have a nice genteel business in the heart of the city; no such chance ever before offered, for a good man and wife to earn easily a good living. We will exchange it for a good house and lot, and pay the difference in cash.

We have excellent homes at $500, $450, $1,000, $1,200, $1,500; (this one has over 2½ acres of land right in the city, with good house, barn, well, cistern, fruit, &c.); $1,750 $2,000 and so along up to $10,000.

We have seventy acres good land, but cheap, to exchange as part payment on a good home. Land free and clear and will pay some cash difference on home that suits.

We have some money to loan in sums to suit. We want one first class loan of $1,000 and an other of $1,500. Five years a percent.

MORMON IN MIND IS AMELIA YOUNG.

FAVORITE WIFE OF THE MORMON PROPHET.

She Still Resides in Salt Lake City and Believes in the Practice of Polygamy—Chats with a Correspondent for the First Time.

IN THE "JUNIOR GARDEN," a handsome and comfortable two-story house, at 6 South First West street, in Salt Lake City, resides Amelia Folsom Young, seventh and favorite wife of the greatest of Mormon prophets, Brigham Young. It was only the other day that I called on the former queen of Mormon society, and through the courtesy of President George Q. Cannon of the Mormon church, from whom I bore a letter of introduction, was granted an audience. An interview is almost as difficult to obtain from Mrs. Brigham Young XVII. as from the President of the United States, as she is daily besieged by curious tourists, both in person and by letter, and when admitted, these morbid curiosity seekers always subject their hostess to humiliating, and often insulting, questions and comments. After a short conversation with Mrs. Young, it was easy for me to believe that she had been the most popular of Brigham Young's nineteen wives. She is tall and symmetrical of form, dignified and graceful of manner, and a brilliant conversationalist. The silvery locks, which tell of the fifty and five years of her eventful life, are mingled with threads of gold, reminiscent of the beauty of former years, and the large blue eyes have lost nothing of their fire and expressiveness. Mrs. Young told me that she had never before submitted to an interview from a representative of the press. She was aware that many untruthful and untrue newspaper articles had been published about herself and her late husband, and it was to correct the false impression conveyed in these stories that she was now willing to talk to the public.

Harriet Amelia Folsom was born Aug. 23, 1838, in Buffalo, N. Y., the birthplace also of Frances Folsom, now Mrs. Cleveland. A near relative of Mrs. Young, who has taken some interest in the genealogy of the family, says that Mrs. Cleveland and Amelia Folsom Young are cousins, having sprung from the same original Folsom family in New Hampshire. Mrs. Young when approached on this subject desired not to talk, stating that she had no knowledge of just what kinship, if any, she bears to Mrs. Cleveland, never having looked up her genealogy with any such object in view, but a Massachusetts member of the Folsom family having traced her genealogy says the two famous women are second cousins.

The Mormon church was a religious infant when Amelia Folsom was born, and it was not until she was three years of age when her parents embraced the new faith of Joseph Smith, another New Yorker.

In 1845 the Folsom family moved to Nauvoo, Ill., the site of the first Mormon temple, but were not permitted to remain there long, the people having risen up against the Mormons, killing their prophet, Joseph Smith, and driving all his followers out of the state. The Folsom family went to Keokuk, and afterward to Council Bluffs, Iowa, and early in 1860 started across the plains for Salt Lake, the Mormon city of Zion. Amelia Folsom was then 22 years of age, and in full bloom of her beauty, while Brigham was 50. Beautiful women were not plentiful in this then desert valley, the number of men greatly predominating in the small settlements.

President Brigham Young of the Mormon church and his first presidential counselor, Herbert C. Kimball, rich and powerful, were in the habit of going out to meet incoming parties of pilgrims, and upon learning of the approach of the party in which the Folsom family came westward, set out to meet them and welcome them to the Mormon stronghold. Here was the beginning of the romance which was consummated in the marriage of Brigham Young and Amelia Folsom. It seems to have been a well established case of love at first sight. The reader may now listen to Amelia Folsom Young as she tells, for the first time in her life, her own story of her associations and experiences with Brigham Young.

"When did you first meet President Young?" I asked.

"It was on Oct. 3, 1860, when, in company with Heber Kimball, he came out into Salt Lake Valley in a carriage to meet and welcome our party. I was introduced to him then, and after arriving here he called on us. The call was returned, and we subsequently visited back and forth frequently, and went to social gatherings together."

"When did your courtship begin?"

"Immediately after my arrival in Salt Lake."

"How long did it last?"

"Until August, 1862, when we were engaged. In January, 1863, the marriage occurred."

"Did President Young employ peculiar methods of courtship?"

"I think not. I was aware that he was the husband of a number of wives—I did not care to know how many—but that did not affect our courtship in the least. President Young was naturally dignified, but was always at ease with company."

"Did you take up immediate residence with your husband after marriage?"

"No. I remained at home three weeks, when I took up residence at the Lion house, President Young's home. His wives and children all lived there, and each wife, including myself, had her separate rooms. At that time there were seventy-five of us in the family, including the hired help. We all dined at the same table, over which President Young presided. Every morning and evening all gathered in the large parlor for prayers, and here also my husband presided. I afterward took up quarters at the Bee Hive house, but returned to the Lion house later and remained there until the death of President Young, Aug. 29, 1877."

"Was your married life generally happy?"

"I should certainly dislike to think otherwise. Why not? We were all members of the same family and treated each other as such. I would sacrifice anything for the surviving wives of President Young, and their feeling toward me, I think, is the same."

"How many times did your husband marry after you became his wife?"

"Twice afterward; I don't know how many times before. His will should show that."

"Where did you reside after your husband's death?"

"I went to the Gardo house. This building had been begun before President Young's death. I planned the structure myself. I also planned this residence I now live in, which was built in 1870, and I moved into this house the same year. All of President Young's wives were treated alike in the distribution of the estate."

"You have the name of being Brigham Young's favorite wife?"

"I can't say that he had any favorites. He was equally kind and attentive to all in his lifetime, and left each surviving wife a legacy. I was absent from home at long intervals during the fifteen years of my married life, having visited several times in the east, and having taken an extensive tour of Europe."

"Do you still believe in polygamy?"

"Certainly I do. If polygamy was once right it is still right. There is no reason why a polygamous marriage may not be as happy as the ordinary marriage, if it is entered understandingly."

"What will be the future of the Mormon church on this question?"

"The same as the past, so far as belief in the doctrine of polygamy is concerned. As to its practice, that has been declared unlawful by the government, and the Mormon people have promised to abstain from polygamy. They will keep their promise, but they can believe in the doctrine of polygamy without practicing it. It would not be right under the 'manifesto' to practice polygamy."

Amelia Folsom Young appears but seldom in public since the death of her husband, but is not on this account a recluse. She is still as popular in the private gatherings in the older Mormon society circles as she once was in the public events occurring in the younger circles.

At Sea on an Ice Floe.

Recently the lifeboat society at Cronstadt received news that toward the south shore of the Gulf of Finland, about thirty miles from Cronstadt, some 200 fishermen and peasants, with their horses and sleighs, had been suddenly carried out to sea on a large ice floe, which had been detached apparently by a recent storm. The ice-cutting boats at Cronstadt were laid up for the winter, and could not be used. Twenty sailors, however, with two officers and assistant surgeons, were dispatched over the ice with two life boats on runners, and a similar party started to the rescue from Oranienbaum, on the other side of the mouth of the Neva. The latest telegrams from Cronstadt state that the fishermen and others have been found and all rescued by means of a bridge made of poles and planks, which was thrown out from the firm ice. They had been cut off from the mainland for at least forty-eight hours, during the latter part of which provisions were passed over to them by the inhabitants of the nearest shore.

That oily and rough skin cured and the face and hands beautified by Johnson's Oriental soap; medicated and highly perfumed. Sold at Smith's Pharmacy.

HUMOROUS.

She, looking around the room—What lovely interior decorations! He, looking over the table—Delightful, I am sure!

Tired Passenger—What is the next station? Equally Tired Passenger—There is no next station. This is the milk train.

Fair Visitor—I would like to see the editor of the woman's page. Office Boy—Here he is over here; de fat man in his shirt sleeves, wit de clay pipe in his mouth.

Elderly Maiden—This is so unexpected, Mr. Wellalong, that—that you must give me time. Elderly Lover—Time, Miss Rebecca? Do you think there is any to spare?

Manager, after rehearsal—Am sorry, Miss Skreecher, but I don't think we can engage you. Actress—But I am in a position to get a report circulated that you give me $100 a night. Manager—That's different. You may go on.

"I want you to understand," said a belligerent man at a meeting, "that you can't be a czar here." "Well, then," said the other as he sulkily got into his overcoat, "I'll hunt up my stenographer. I'll be a dictator if I die for it."

Investor—I see you have a railroad mapped out here, but where's your town? Land Boomer—Well, to tell the truth, it ain't built yet; but there's six candidates for sheriff in them gallberry bushes, one moonlight distillery, and a pond for baptism!

"Sammerson tells me that he courted his wife five years before she would accept him." "Well he has nothing to complain of at that. She brought him $100,000. It looks to me as if $20,000 a year for courting a good looking girl is big pay for a mighty easy job."

"Don't you want to buy some combs?" asked a commercial traveler. "Combs?" echoed the landlord of the tavern at Pokerville Junction. "What makes you think I need any combs? Didn't you see that one hanging in the wash room? It's been there since before the war and it's a purty good comb yet."

The bacillus of chronic rheumatism has been tracked down, isolated, recognized and reproduced by Professor Max Schuler. It is said to be short and thick, with bright granulations, which can easily be shown up by dyeing with aniline.

Col. Enoch Noyes of Cecil county, Maryland, has just felled on his farm near Port Deposit, a walnut tree eighteen feet in circumference, eighty six feet high, and believed to be 300 years old. He expects to get $400 for the lumber, not an unreasonable expectation, as walnut wood is scarce and again in considerable demand.

WHY?

Taste of "Royal Ruby Port Wine" and you will know why we call it "Royal." A glass held up to the light will show why we call it Ruby. $500 reward for any bottle of this wine found under five years old, or in any way adulterated. It is grand in sickness and convalescence, or where a strengthening cordial is required; recommended by druggists and physicians. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby," don't let dealers impose on you with something "just as good." Sold only in bottles; price, quarts $1, pints 60 cts. Bottled by Royal Wine Co. Sold by Stearns & Baker.

Nurse—The patient has been raving incessantly since you were here day before yesterday. He has not slept, but has talked, talked continuously.

Doctor (cheerfully)—Oh, that won't hurt him a bit! You doubtless were not aware that our charge is the famous populist leader, Senator Smith.

Professor Birkholz, the German hair specialist, who has made a wonderful success of curing baldness and causing the hair to grow thick on the heads of ladies and gentlemen, has a large business established in the Madison Temple, Chicago, and with his assistants will give his attention to those who are in need of hair. The professor will examine your scalp free of charge, and should he find that the follicles are not destroyed or the pores of the scalp not closed, your case will be pronounced curable, but where the head is sick and shiny there is no cure. Call and see him or write him 101 Mason's Temple, Chicago.

For Over Fifty Years, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

G.A.R. NOTICE

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commissioner of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If U. S. soldiers, or their widows, children, or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to the Press Claims Company at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address:

Arctic Geology.
According to Sir Henry Howorth, the Arctic lands, during the Pleistocene period, instead of being overwhelmed by a glacial climate, were under comparatively mild conditions. Since Pleistocene times the climate has been growing more and more severe. The author bases this conclusion on a study of the Arctic flora as displayed in Greenland, Spitzbergen and the uncovered moraine of the great glacier in Alaska, and also upon certain faunal facts. He cites evidence to show that the present flora of Greenland is undoubtedly a relic of an old flora which has survived in favorable localities, and not an importation since glacial times. The same is true of the Spitzbergen flora. The discovery of a colony of sea cows on Behring's island seems to indicate a recently milder climate in that region. The peculiar types of northern migratory birds suggests that at no very remote period they lived the year round in their present breeding places in northern Siberia, Greenland and Spitzbergen, and that it is the present ever-increasing cold that leads them to migrate in search of warmth and food. In short, the only glacial climate we are warranted in supposing to exist in the Arctic lands is that which is now current, and it is the product of changes in the level of the earth's crust since Pleistocene times.

Aluminum.
It is true that every brick in a house and every bank of clay contains a considerable quantity of that beautiful metal aluminum. But science has not yet discovered any economical way of extricating the metal from clay, because in the form it there exists, namely, aluminum oxide, it is combined with silicon oxide, and these two substances behave like a pair of Siamese twins; they are so strongly bound together it is next to impossible to separate them. Therefore, in the production of aluminum, chemists do not use clay, but turn to some material which contains the oxide of alumina free from silica. The best material is a mineral known as cryolite, which comes chiefly from Greenland. It is a double fluoride of aluminum and sodium and an artificially prepared sesquioxide of alumina; these are suspended in a bath of molten chlorides of the alkaline earths and then subjected to electrolysis by powerful dynamos. The sodium salts are decomposed, the metallic sodium sizes eagerly upon the oxygen that was in combination with the aluminum, and as a result the white metal aluminum is freed and settles to the bottom.

Lost and Found.

The ancients possessed some few arts which were lost on the road to us. They could color marble as easily as we do cloth. They could preserve the dead until their dust would not mingle with the earth for centuries. But when it comes to mechanical skill, to labor saving appliances, to wealth-compelling inventions, they were not "in". Our machines have more sense than the old mechanics. See what these modern marvels with their iron arms and steel fingers can do, and how little they charge for doing it!

Modern Instance.

ONE OF THE SHOOTING STARS that has lighted up the bargain sky in the Carpet Department is that 50c all wool Ingrain Carpet—50 rolls of beautiful, artistic patterns received the past three weeks. This particular make is confined to us for Janesville, the designs can be seen only here. Remember this lot represents a large new purchase—they are not carpets from stock reduced to 50c.

Our Carpet Department is the size of four ordinary stores. What we show--the variety--as large as can be seen in an other three stores in Rock County. Posted people say our carpet showings are nothing if not wonderful. To meet with a stock of such magnitude in a 15,000 inhabitants town augurs much for our enterprise and is appreciated, the growth of our business shows it.
